2. What are some things that parents/caregivers do to exasperate their children?
3. What can help you honour your employers, or employees, when you are frustrated with them or your work situation?
4. How can you remain loving towards employers, or employees, even when you need to have a difficult conversation with them or challenge them on something?
5. Considering our great desire to do our own will, how can we learn to be slaves to Christ?
